

DESCRIPTION

servotherm oils are specially developed mineral oils for use in heat transfer industrial application. These oils possess excellent thermal and oxidation stability, low volatility and low vapour pressure to give long and trouble free service life in heat transfer systems. servotherm Medium is recommended for well designed heat transfer systems upto 300°C.